The Human Rights Commission of the Geneva Bar Association (HRC) reserves the right to request further information and/or documents if necessary.

The present application form and the accompanying documents are to be sent by email to the following address: probono@odage.ch

By signing the present form, the Applicant acknowledges and accepts the following conditions of participation with the Platform:

1. The Applicant has no right to have the HRC satisfy its request or to have the HRC issue a refusal decision with statement of grounds.
2. Any liability of the HRC, the Geneva Bar Association or the representatives of the Platform's office in relation to the legal services provided is excluded and the Applicant waives any right of action against the aforementioned entities.
3. General information about the present application shall be provided to lawyers who are members of the Geneva Bar Association and who have declared their interest in providing pro bono legal services in relation to the issues described in the present application form.
4. The Applicant shall reimburse any out of pocket expenses (e.g. court fees) to the lawyer in charge of the pro bono mandate.
5. The Applicant agrees to waive its right to any compensation for legal services that might be granted by a court or authority. If such compensation is granted, it shall be received by the lawyer in charge of the pro bono mandate.
6. At the end of the mandate, the lawyer in charge of the pro bono mandate shall inform the HRC regarding the seriousness of the Applicant. The lawyer shall also inform the HRC in case of any problems encountered while exercising the mandate and if the mandate needs to be terminated. The Applicant allows the lawyer responsible for providing pro bono legal services to provide such information to the HRC.
7. If it appears that Applicant has not acted seriously in the context of a pro bono mandate (and in particular that it has not reacted or reacted with significant delays to requests or questions from the lawyer in charge of the pro bono mandate), the Applicant may be excluded from the Platform and be denied any subsequent legal services.

The fact that the Geneva Bar Association, or the HRC respectively, allows, through the Platform, Applicant to obtain pro bono legal services can in no way be interpreted as a recognition that the Geneva Bar Association, respectively the HRC, adheres to the goals of the Applicant.
